Dear Fellow AMHA General Life Members:

Enclosed is a copy of a letter I sent to several Life Members in April¹ asking for their support in bringing a derivative action on behalf of the AMHA. In June, the AMHA posted it on their website, along with their version of the events leading up to it. Shortly thereafter, full copies of my letters to the AMHA and their written responses to me were posted on the GoMorgans website (www.GoMorgans.net) because I believe people should be armed with all the facts so they can make up their own minds. Since then there has also been some buzz on the internet chat rooms about all this. So far quite a few members have expressed their support.

I am aware that not everyone has access to the internet and even those who do may not, for one reason or another, have seen any of these letters. I'm mailing you my letter so that you will know what's going on. It explains what a derivative action is, why I think one is necessary and a consent form for those who want to sign on.

I have also enclosed a copy of an email posted by Joyce Quigley in one of the chat rooms and a response to it from John Eilertsen. I don't know Mr. Eilertsen personally but his email expresses my own views so clearly and so well that I have obtained his permission to share it with you.

If you believe that the AMHA should not keep its members (including board members) in the dark and would like to join me in the effort to bring some much needed sunshine to this organization, please sign the Consent form attached to my letter and send it to me as soon as possible.

Marjorie Hazelwood

¹ With minor changes such as the date and the number of Life Members filled in (my original letter left blanks). I still don't know the exact number of current Life Members—the AMHA has yet to send me an official list despite my written request.
